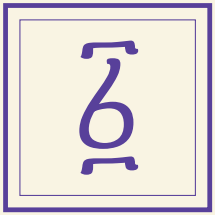
Business case

Large-scale computing

Carlos Cotrini
AI in Industry, ETH Zurich
Friday 13 November 2026 𓂀𓋹𓂀𓆑



Section 1

LinkedIn’s ads

LinkedIn's ads: the chance of a click

The chance that a member clicks an ad enters the ad auction, and the price depends on it.

Advertisers choose which clicks they pay for: some count likes or comments, others only visits to their website.

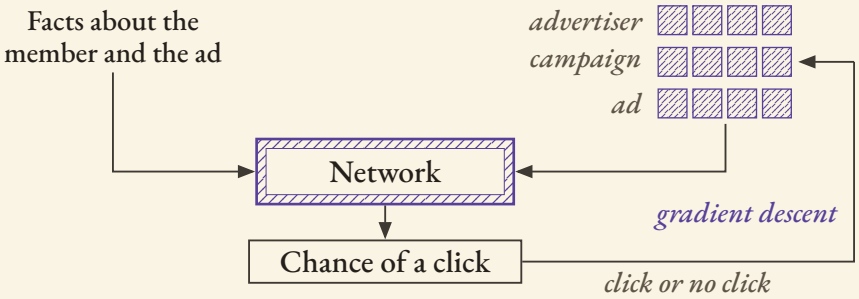
Over 1 billion

members

Borisyuk and others (LinkedIn), KDD 2024.

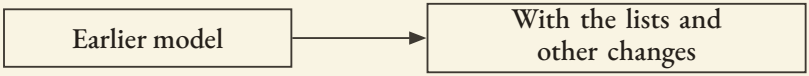
Numbers for every advertiser, campaign and ad

The matchmaker learned lists from ratings; here, from clicks.



Borisyuk and others (LinkedIn), KDD 2024.

The value: A/B tests



+4.3%

click rate on ads, relative change

LinkedIn put the new model into production.

−96%

training time in an offline test, when each new model builds on the earlier ones and learns from the newest half day of data

Borisyuk and others (LinkedIn), KDD 2024.